The Donoghue Forlines Dividend Portfolio Composite was created on January 1, 2013.

Results are based on fully discretionary accounts under management, including those accounts no longer with the firm. Individual portfolio returns are calculated on a daily basis. Cash flows are weighted according to the time they are available to invest during the period using the Time Weighted Return method. Returns for the subperiods are geometrically linked to obtain the portfolio's monthly return.

Composite returns are calculated by asset-weighting the individual portfolio returns using beginning-of-period values and are calculated monthly in U.S. dollars. These returns represent investors domiciled primarily in the United States. Proxy positions might be held in place of composite holdings at some third-party model manager providers. Past performance is not indicative of future results. The calculation and presentation of performance has not been approved or reviewed by the SEC or its staff.

Policies for valuing portfolios, calculating performance, and preparing compliant presentations are available upon request. For a compliant presentation and/or the firm's list of composite descriptions, please contact 800-642-4276 or info@donoghueforlines.com.

Actual fees applicable to an individual investor's account will vary and no individual investor may incur a fee as high as 3%. The inclusion of the Syntax US Net Value Index is for comparative purposes only. The Syntax US Net Value Index is a portfolio that tracks the net asset value (NAV) of a portfolio designed to provide exposure to the large-cap US equity market, with the goal of reflecting the performance of the investable US market.

Index performance results are unmanaged, do not reflect the deduction of transaction and custodial charges, or the deduction of a management fee, the incurrence of which would have the effect of decreasing indicated historical performance results. You cannot invest directly in an Index. Economic factors, market conditions and investment strategies will affect the performance of any portfolio, and therefore are not assurances that it will match or outperform any particular benchmark.
